

ABOUT SOULSPLITTER

SOULSPLITTER is a highly dedicated Germany-based music and arts collective founded by the musicians Fenix Gayed (drums), Simon Kramer (guitars), Daniel Gräupner (keys) and Felix Jacobs (bass).

They started writing on their debut record "SALUTOGENESIS" in 2015, eager from the start to melt their musical backgrounds and influences into a new and original sound. Inspired by the Progressive Rock from the seventies as well as modern Metal sounds, Jazz harmonies and the intricate classical compositions of the late romanticism, their sound evokes reminiscences of HAKEN, DREAM THEATER, STEVEN WILSON and OPETH - as well as PINK FLOYD, EMERSON, LAKE & PALMER or QUEEN.

The album itself consists of eight songs which act like movements in a coherent story, telling a tale of love, death, meaning and self-awareness which are going to be performed in their entirety. It was the intention from the start to focus exclusively on the underlying concept and each individual song so as not to limit the creative process. They acquired the support of over 50 individuals - guest vocalists, instrumentalists, producers, designers, painters, animators, photographers, filmmakers - to create a truly unique and timeless masterpiece far beyond what they could have done by themselves.

You can be excited for a 60-minute audiovisual trip into a world not unlike ours, yet completely different. The realms of Science-Fiction and Mythology, of dream and reality will merge and take you on a journey to your own „Salutogenesis“.
